ANOTHER WRANGLE OVER IT N THE SENATE.

pertment"-The Report to He Printed

WASHINGTON, June 3 .- The Senate gave more than two hours of time to-day again to animated debate on the much discussed German report on wages. Senator Stone of Missouri introduced the subject by reading from press despatches showing the excitement in Germany because of Senator Aldrich's remarks a few days ago that the sending of such a report for the purpose of influencing tariff legislation was 'a piece of impertinence."

Mr. Stone criticised Senators Aldrich and Depew. The Senator from New York had condemned the sending of the report as a gross violation of the international proprieties. After establishing by official evidence that the information had been called for by the State Department last November through a communication sent to the American Ambassador at Berlin and by him handed to the Foreign

Mr. Stone added that if Mr. Aldrich would retract the remark he would be willing to let the matter drop.

Mr. Aldrich declined to make a retraction. He said that the act of impertinence was not on the part of the German Government but by the manufacturers themselves. He repeated his remark that any attempt by any one to influence legislation here was impertinent. He said that he had no intention of giving affront to the German Government, but that the manufacturers whose names were being manufacturers whose names were being withheld were attempting to influence the tariff legislation. Mr. Aldrich said that he referred to the manufacturers and not

Senator Stone could pose as the champion and the representative of the German Government on the floor of the Senate. "That statement is an impertinence." Mr. Stone retorted hotly. "It's worse than an impertinence. The Senator from Block Laland has no right to say that I am Rhode Island has no right to say that I am the representative of the German Governthe representative of the German as much ment. I am an American Senator as much as he is, and I resent that remark."

Mr. Tillman, who had been listening to the debate with increasing interest and nervousness, rose to inquire: "What is the mystery all about—by what hocuspous is this report being kept from us? We ordered it printed several days ago. There must be something in it that the Senator from Rhode Island doesn't like? It is clean?"

But Mr. Tilman's unanimous consent Then Mr. Depew decided to smooth the ruffied feelings of the German voters by explaining how much he loved the Kaiser; explaining how much he loved the Kaiser; how he visited Germany every year; what a magnificent country it was. "But this matter touches my funny bone," said the Senator. Then he drew a picture of the German Cabinet in session with Prince yon Buelow putting aside great international questions like the Balkan situation, the Triple Alliance and the friction with Russia to take up the "more important matter of the duty on razors in the interest of a few manufacturers in Bremen."

Mr. Depew placed his hands on either side of his abdomen and massaged himself while his mirth obtruded at every pore. He said it was to laugh, that the whole thing was a huge diplomatic joke and that the Kaiser would split his sides when Mr. Depew told him about it this summer. Depew told him about it this summer.

Senator La Follette then got the floor and asked for the publication of the correspondence between the State Department and the German Government leading up to the report. Mr. Aldrich objected. Mr. Beveridge tried to smooth the matter out, but Mr. La Follette declined to renew his request for unanimous consent. Senator La Follette continued to speak and gradually merged his remarks into a continuance of his speech begun vesterday on the general demerits begun yesterday on the general demerits of the tariff, and the German report was again passed over for the time being.

WOODRUFF FAVORS FUSION, With a Republican for Mayor-Parsons

"I think, though, that as the Republicans will furnish the greater part of the vote it would be only fair that the head of any fusion ticket should be a Republican, but not necessarily a man known as an organization Republican. He should be a man of high standing in the community, preferably a business man, and I think that he should be selected from Manhattan. But in advocating fusion I do not mean the kind of fusion we had in 1901, when we spent the summer dividing things up. In the preliminary conferences we should discuss only principles which should govern the selection of candidates, and leave the selection of individuals who can meet the conditions viduals who can meet the conditions thus laid down to be decided on later. With such a movement as this, and picking men who would command the independent yets, we could win easily."

The test supreme for the talents of the tailorman is afforded by Summer Apparel for Men

It requires no expert knowledge to understand how difficult it is to construct a garment of light weight which will retain its shapeliness to the very end of its service.

The paddings and interlinings of the heavyweight garments are by some makers employed to cover "a multitude of sins"-and to some extent such adjuncts do serve to hold the shape of the garment, even though it may be indifferently tailored.

But the Summer Suit, to be comfortable, must be devoid of every superfluous ounce of weight—and that means expert tailoring.

Saks Summer Suits, at $15 to $43

are fashioned of the most approved hot-weather materials made abroad or at home, and are perfect examples of what trained brains and fingers can accomplish in the production of hotweather apparel which will preserve its original shapeliness and distinction until the end.
